The GFaI is a non-profit research association. More than 90 employees work on scientific projects, R&D tasks and services. GFaI is engaged in the promotion and advancement of R&D in applied computer sciences and organizes the industrial joint research in this field within the scope of the "Arbeitsgemeinschaft industrieller Forschungsvereinigungen 'Otto von Guericke' e. V. (AiF)". The GFaI has numerous successful co-operations.

R&D includes the following fields

- image processing and computer vision including 3D,
- adaptive modeling and pattern recognition,
- LASER line based optical metrology (2D and 3D)

with applications in

- industrial quality inspection,
- image analysis in forensic sciences and security,
- automated modeling of 3D-objects,
- culture and arts,
- spectroscopic data analysis.

Cooperation request

- Image processing
- Vision systems
- Modeling of 3D-objects
- Pattern recognition
- Adaptive modeling
